MARBLE & GRANITE

marble & granite work surfaces
for the heart of the home

enhance the beauty of your kitchen...

Caterham have been working with natural materials such as stone, marble and granite for over half a century. During that period, we have built up an enviable reputation for service and reliability, whilst at the same time we have endeavoured to move with the ever-shifting markets by equipping our factory with the very latest technology.

Investment in the latest state of the art equipment ensures that we are able to back up the claim of being able to cut granite to any size or shape, thus ensuring that our specialist experience in supplying worksurfaces to the luxury 'Bespoke' kitchen market is second to none.

Our highly experienced specialist workforce, made up of over 60 skilled people, are fully trained to operate the most modern machinery, they have to be, as we currently operate more technology than anyone in the business.

And to ensure that we are able to offer the complete service, our company employs full-time quality approved fitters who are on-hand to install the finished 'made to measure' worktops with the utmost care and attention, thus making certain that the end result not only looks stunning, but is also built to withstand the test of time.

Kitchens are brought to life with the inclusion of highly polished natural surfaces, which exude an air of luxury and uniqueness. We currently stock two worksurface materials; Natural Granite and Quartzstone which are in turn available in a range of colours and finishes.

quartzstone

Quartzstone is a man-made material which is becoming a very popular alternative to natural granite. Whilst enjoying all the qualities of natural granite, quartzstone also has additional benefits when considering maintenance and appearance.

It is resistant to staining, scratching, odours and even cooking fats and is available in a much wider range of colours than traditional granite materials. These include Glitterstone, a luxurious material featuring reflective metallic flecks and also plain and veined options, ensuring a perfect solution to your needs.

- Durable and strong
- Non-porous material, avoids staining and odours
- Wide colour range including creams and beiges
- Available in Glitterstone material
- Extremely hard-wearing
- Hygienic, easy to clean and maintain
